A Florida native who moved to our area because it was a great place to live and raise a family, Dr. Jai Grewal has created a full-service neurology practice that treats a wide spectrum of neurological conditions. He explains, "At Clear Thought Neurology, every patient is always seen by a Board-Certified Neurologist and there is never a 'one-size-fits-all' approach to treating patients. On the first visit, people can expect a careful, never-rushed, and compassionate examination, discussion, and review with an emphasis placed on getting to know and understand the patient and explaining the condition. This approach allows the patient and physician to reflect upon customizing the course of treatment and what the patient realistically wants to experience. Past patients have expressed their delight at the length of time provided to them for their appointments and the sincere feeling of being truly cared for and taken seriously." He points out that it has been heartwarming personally and professionally gratifying that Clear Thought Neurology experiences a very high rate of referrals from other patients.

In addition to the patient experience, the neurologists at Clear Thought offer unparalleled expertise to complement their bedside manner. They have completed their training and have served as faculty at preeminent medical institutions such as UT Southwestern, UT Houston, Stony Brook Medical Center, and MD Anderson Cancer Center.

Due to the frequent and disabling neurological symptoms experienced by patients following recovery from COVID-19 (known as long-COVID), Dr. Grewal discusses the recent ongoing findings within the medical community and how the neurologists at Clear Thought are skilled and comfortable treating many of the unusual and persistent symptoms experienced by patients long after their recovery from the infection. He explains that the treatments he routinely uses for disabling neurological symptoms such as fatigue, weakness, "brain fog," and pain have now been proven effective in helping patients cope and overcome their long-COVID symptoms and how the team at Clear Thought are highly equipped to monitor, improve, and alleviate many of these lingering symptoms. Many patients come in unable to work and function, but with intervention eventually do return to their pre-COVID status.

Dr. Grewal says he wants to make it understood that Clear Thought Neurology always puts the patient first and offers many tests, treatments, therapies, and procedures for a myriad of neurological disorders. Working as a team, the neurologists at Clear Thought closely communicate with your primary care physician as well as other specialists, so if you suffer from any neurologically connected malady, they can help. They will not hesitate to pick up the phone to call the primary care physician or another specialist, and will always send their note to the entire medical team.

The neurologists at Clear Thought Neurology are affiliated with Sarasota Memorial Hospital and on-staff at many local hospitals serving Venice, Sarasota, Bradenton, Port Charlotte, Punta Gorda, and surrounding communities, and that home visits can be arranged. They will customize your treatment and treat you like family.
