WRITTEN BY BETSY A. ENO

Alluring and exotic, transparent mesh when draped above a bed or sitting area, can transform any space into a tropical oasis. Light and breezy, this functional floaty fabric allows air to freely flow in, keeps insects at bay and creates a dreamy ambiance that evokes a sense of rest and relaxation. Showcasing the versatility of this see-through material, we have selected a few rooms that just may inspire you to turn one of your favorite spots into a soothing seaside sanctuary.

A Coastal Refuge

Vibrant blue walls accompanied by a white lounge chair accessorized with plush pillows and adorned with a curtain of billowy soft cloth, gives the sensation of being suspended on a cloud. Decorated with treasures from the sea, this room features elements of the sky and water, making it feel like a perfect day at the beach.

Sheer Splendor

Luxurious and elegant, this private suite featuring a four-poster canopy bed dressed in creamy chiffon fabric would make any guest feel like royalty. Keeping the curtains neutral around the sleeping area complements the room and creates a tranquil and soothing environment. Turquoise pillows add a touch of coastal charm while open shutters bring forth the light and the fresh summer air.

An Afternoon Escape

A cascading waterfall of sheer white gauze is the main focal point in this humble suite. Drawing the eye toward its magnificent descent, it brings the brightness of summer into the space and makes a dramatic statement against the dark wood walls. Open windows add to the serene environment, allowing the cool gulf breeze to wander in and permeate the room.

Whimsical Duet

Fanciful and fun, this twin set of tied-up tulle suspended from the rafters serves a dual purpose. When gathered up and secured, the duo adds an enchanting décor quality while allowing full access to the room during the day. In the evening, the material can be released, transforming the space into a comfortable, cozy refuge.
